WHO CAN BE MEANT?

The Lexington Leader, in the course of vigorous advocacy of the Bronston racing bill, says: "Over sixty years ago racing was begun at the historic course of the Kentucky Association and racing still continues there today. The history of that racing ground is not tarnished with the present day 'heads I win and tails you lose' policy as followed by more than one of the track magnates not a thousand miles from Lexington. The very fact that foreign books and pool rooms have not been the main angles of the Kentucky Association is a reason that the association is not now the power it once was. Time works wondrous changes and in the racing world the change of the old association is one of the most striking. Competition on unequal grounds; manipulation of the politics of the turf, an apparent insatiable greed for the dollars of the sport-loving and unsuspecting public on the part of classes of men that in former days were content with the responsibilities and the usufruct of a little slate, a tin box and a bank roll of varied dimensions, have all contributed to tear down an organization of gentlemen that has given to racing a character and a standing that has to more or less extent preserved it from the argus-eyed reformer, oftentimes called a fanatic.

"Some one has asked what breeders are in favor of the Bronston racing bill. The writer has not yet met a breeder who is opposed to the bill. Among those that are heartily in favor of it are B. G. Thomas, Overton Chenault, J. Henry Miller, Charles W. Moore, E. F. Clay, Milton Young, Catesby Woodford, William S. Barnes, T. J., George H. and J. T. Clay, Matt Simpson and Thomas J. Carson."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

One of the finest looking animals at Churchill Downs and one that is admired by all visitors to the track is Alleviate, the crack racer in W. F. Schulte's stable. Alleviate is entered in the Oaks at Louisville, Oakley and Latonia, besides a number of good handicaps in the west. Last year she was the best two-year-old filly in the west. She gave every indication of developing into a grand filly this year, and on paper she has the Oaks at her mercy.

Count Poniatowski is gradually gathering together a select stable of race horses and mares. The Count, who a few years ago was one of the crack gentlemen riders in France, prefers fillies and mares, his ultimate intention being to send them to France and breed them to the French stallions. He was quite a heavy purchaser at the MacDonough sale and has recently bought Franchise by Hindoo and a few other mares.

A dispatch from Dallas, Texas, says Fred Foster has purchased the three-year-old filly Eva Rice from E. Slaughter for $4,000 and shipped her to New Orleans. Eva Rice is a chestnut filly by Masetto—Miss Rye, and at St. Louis last year was the best of her sex. She is speedy, game and a weight carrier.

J. B. Dyer has severed his connections with the Corrigan stable and has been secured to train the two-year-olds by Morello and St. Carlo owned by Hughes. Dyer is well known around the New York tracks, where he has handled many a famous horse—San Francisco Chronicle.

Jockey Clawson and his employers, Atkin & Lottridge, are at loggerheads, and the probability is that there will be some litigation before matters are straightened out. Clawson claims that the firm owes him several thousand dollars and demands a settlement.—San Francisco Examiner.

To the declarations from the Suburban already published, a telegram from Secretary Fellowes adds the name of Sly Fox, 3, 90. This leaves forty-two still eligible and probably completes the list of declarations.

March 1 is the last day for the registration of names under the Jockey Club rules. After that date it will cost dilatory owners $50 per animal to name 2-year-olds and upward.

Count Poniatowski has purchased the three-year-old filly Tiger Lily, by St. Carlo—Wildflower.

Roche broke down in his last race in San Francisco or at any rate went so lame that he was deemed to have broken down.

Col. Milton Young of McGrathiana, will breed the following number of his mares to stallions owned by other breeders: to Halma, 12; to Handspring, 5; to Requitall, 6; St. Florian, 12.

As a racing center New York naturally contributed the greatest sum, the aggregate at Sheepshead Bay, Gravesend, Morris Park, Brighton Beach and Aqueduct being $741,280; San Francisco coming second, with $448,115; Cincinnati third, with $334,550, and Chicago fourth, with $331,850. To the St. Louis Fair Grounds track belongs the distinction of leading all single tracks with $234,841.

The added money in purses and stakes shows an increase of over $100,000 in 1896. St. Louis raced the most days and distributed the largest amount of money, but the highest average went to the Coney Island Jockey Club, at Sheepshead Bay, with the Brooklyn Jockey Club a close second.
